

Build your Dreams

Project team

Helen Ding

Project goal

To increase youngsters' understanding of the chemical industry and better prepare them for future employment.

Program

Vopak Shanghai Logistics in Caojing invited 80 high school and university students from neighboring communities for one day of terminal and industry visits and employment training, to increase their understanding of the chemical industry and better prepare them for future employment in an international environment.

Caojing, China

Build your Dreams

Caojing, China

What has been realized so far

The participating youngsters visited the Shanghai Chemical Industrial Park (SCIP). Buu Dinh, General Manager of the Vopak Caojing Terminal, delivered a warm welcome speech and presented a brief introduction of the supply chain of the SCIP. All of the youngsters paid a visit to the Vopak terminal and got a general insight of Vopak and its function in the SCIP. An English speech contest was then held with the topic of 'I Have A Dream'. Nearly 20 students participated and seven of them won a 6-months online English learning course. The Caojing Operations Manager conducted a short seminar about employment guidance, to prepare the students for their future career. To conclude the program, Safety, Health & Environment (SHE) Engineers organized an interactive emergency response training to promote safety knowledge and awareness.

Calendar

The event was held on 26 March 2016.

