Sadia Junaid, Ismail Sultan and Muhammad Moiz.

Project goal

To help high school and university students develop critical thinking, empathy, creativity and self confidence.

Program

Engro Vopak Terminal Limited (EVTL) has partnered with Rabtt, which literally translates to 'connect', an organization that works to build a more empathetic society. The EVTL WeConnect team brings together students and mentors from different walks of life to create a space that is conducive to mutual learning and respect. To encourage critical thought and creativity students explore diverse subjects like World History, Arts, Dramatics, Thinking Skills, Public Speaking and Philosophy.

What has been realized so far

Participants are 27 undergraduate students from better universities and 200 high school students, both boys and girls, from underprivileged neighborhoods. Rabtt's flagship 'Scholars Program' is bringing them together in mentoring platforms. Undergraduate students have been trained to conduct summer camps and workshops with high school students. An intensive summer camp has been held in June and July, which is now followed up by workshops that are currently being conducted by the selected students.

Calendar

Activities with students and high school students have started in May and will continue for the remainder of the year.
