Singapore

Project team

Alexis Oh, Wendy Tan, Keng Tia Seah, Verin Tan, Jeremy Ng, Yusoff Khan and Jessalyn Teo.

Project goal

To broaden the youngsters' professional horizons and to empower them to seize future professional career opportunities.

Program

Vopak Singapore organizes two one-day sessions for forty 14 to 16 years old pupils in southwest Singapore. The program includes safety training, a guided tour at the Vopak terminal, career path training and a sports outing.

What has been realized so far

The first session was held mid year 2016. Based on a hands-on curriculum by non-profit organization Junior Achievers, a workshop introduced the students to an array of job options and helped them build greater self-awareness so that the youngsters can figure out what they want to do in the future. A tour at a Vopak terminal introduced the youth to the day-to-day business of a storage company. Last but not least, a bowling game was organized during which Vopak employees engaged with the youth in an informal manner.

Calendar

The next session will be held by the end of the year.
